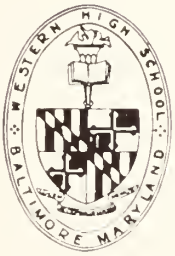
WESTWARD HO!

1949



Published by the Senior Class

WESTERN HIGH SCHOOL

BALTIMORE, MARYLAND

THE memories of our high school days will always be with us, because we have found at Western such satisfaction and happiness. In our studies we have been taught to work honestly, to think intelligently, and to deal fairly with each other. We have been impressed with the importance of co-operation in outside activities as well as in the classroom, and we have shared the zest and enthusiasm of other girls who have been a part of Western. We have cherished the beauty of our school—the reds and yellows of the trees in autumn, the campus blanketed in snow, the blossoms on the cherry trees in spring. Through the years we have made many friendships which have been strengthened by the common bond of love for a school. As an expression of our love and gratitude we, the Class of 1949, dedicate our yearbook to Western.

In Appreciation

For her interest and untiring efforts to make our class one of the best, we express appreciation to Miss Dorothy Carew. We also thank Miss Grace Reed for her efficient assistance as treasurer during our Sophomore and Junior years. We shall always remember our advisers for their guidance, help, and friendship.

DOROTHY CAREW

To Members of the Class of 1949:

As your graduation from high school approaches, all of you will look back over the years you spent at Western High School with some feeling of pride and accomplishment. You have achieved the first step in your ladder of success, and it is my hope that each of you will find the next step one of equal advancement. The outside world in which you will now take a larger part and for which you will assume greater responsibility, needs your enthusiasm and idealism. Amid the pressures of adult life may you always remember to "hold fast to that which is good."

The Wonder Hat

The Goose Hangs High

The Junior Prom

Chuggin' down the Chesapeake

When first we walked up Memory Lane,
Our memory book began;
Three years of joys and problems passed;
Recall them if you can.

"The Sandman Cometh" one early morn,
With elves and merry throng;
We sat up front in Senior seats
And sang our new year song.

There were cakes and punch and song and dance
And fun for all for free,
When Sophomores met to entertain
Their moms one day for tea.

'49 was one year old,
Sophomore year was past;
Instead of buttons, red and gold,
We wore real flowers at last.

Our class helped at Fiesta time;
We had a country store,
With prices low and spirits high
And vegetables galore.

Next at our Junior Leap Year Hop
Each girl had her big chance
To ask a bashful high school boy,
"May I please have this dance?"

We had an inspiration then—
It was our main desire;
So from the mind of '49
There came the Campus Crier.

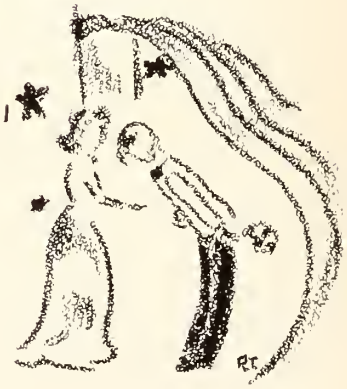
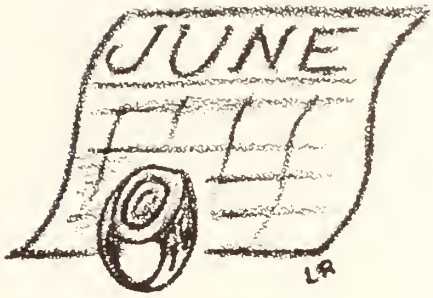
The Junior Play was light and gay,
And it's no wonder that
The school was so enchanted by
Our show, "The Wonder Hat."



Our Junior Prom took place in May;
Bright Maypoles decked the gyms;
The Marines had landed for our dance
And played to suit our whims.

We sailed along the Chesapeake
One sunny day in June;
The Junior-Senior Bay Belle cruise
Was over much too soon.



Unorthodox to say the least—
"The third year's much too soon."
But '49 made up its mind—
We got our rings in June.

Senior Day—ah, Senior Day!
The first two years had flown.
We wore our yellow rose with pride;
Those front seats were our own.

Was that a barber shop quartet?
Did two gay clowns appear?
Of course. We Seniors had them both
To welcome new girls here.

Now buses brought us to the door;
The girls thought this was fine;
Instead of rising with the dawn,
They slept till ten o' nine.

A scarecrow came to Western's gym;
The Hop was at its height;
We danced and sighed—then closed our eyes;
We had to—too much light!

Our Senior Play, "The Goose Hangs High,"
Brought forth both tears and howls;
We couldn't get all starry-eyed,
Because the guys were gals.

Through night and day the Council worked;
Their spirits didn't lag;
And soon we ate our prune delight
To the tune of "Twelfth Street Rag."

Our memory book had one more page;
The end was almost here;
Commencement passed, and now the Prom
Would end our Senior year.

Sweet music filled the misty room
While Seniors, dressed in white,
Danced away their high school days
In one last perfect night.

We started off our Junior year by providing a real treat for the school on Junior Day. The awed expressions of Westernites were explained by the presence of City's school band. The concert given by the boys was enjoyable, and it also gave us the opportunity to be recognized as full-fledged Juniors.

Our next affair, the Junior Tea Dance, through the capable supervision of Miss Ritter, our adviser, and the whole-hearted co-operation of all the girls, was a great success. The "Holly Hop," as the dance was called, brought boys from City and Poly to help us spend a delightful afternoon dancing to the music of the Downbeats.

Of course, we couldn't forget our sister year, the Class of '52, who were just timid "Freshies" when we gave them a welcome party. The entertainment was provided by our own class, who took the girls on a "Tour of New York."

The night of the Junior Prom was a memorable one. We shall never forget the wonderful time we had dancing to Carl Hamilton's orchestra. Somehow we could not help feeling a little sorry that this year was almost at an end, for there was only one more event to complete our Junior memory book—an excursion down the bay with the Seniors as our guests.

Now as we look back upon our Junior year—the fun we have had, the work we have accomplished, the friends we have made—we feel that we have become a true part of Western.

Dear Sister Class of '49,

Not so long ago, we, the Class of 1951, entered a new and rather frightening life at Western. But with your help, we were soon able to overcome all our fears. This was made evident in our first production, the Freshman Frolic, which we had in June.

In the fall, Sophomore Day proved us to be a strong, united class. How proud we were as we sang our year song for the first time! However, the most thrilling experience in our Sophomore year was giving "Say It with Music" for your enjoyment. We presented this to you in the hope of showing our appreciation for all you had done for us.

When you have left Western, we are sure that you will carry on the high standards which you have already set for yourselves. We wish you the best of luck as you enter into your chosen careers. May you be just as successful in the future as you have been in the past.

Gratefully,
'51

For it's always fair weather

Famous Sayings

Miss Haupt: "We might try it."
Miss Haley: "This has definite possibilities."
Miss Gerhardt: "Success comes in cans. Buy a few."
Miss Watson: "Girls, I don't feel strongly about this."
Miss Grafflin: "You're just the person I want to see."
Miss Weber: "Girls, I must tell you a story."
Mrs. Ossermann: "Are you sure that your conclusion is based on facts?"
Miss Burner: "Well, I don't know. That's what they say."
Miss Tripp: "Come on, girls. Make it sound like the Baltimore Symphony."
Mrs. Burns: "It just drips with atmosphere!"

Overheard

In the cafe: "Have you seen the gargyle socks I knitted for my boyfriend?"
In the lab: "Have you finished your experience yet?"
In the French room: Teacher: "You have no time to talk during conversation."
In the WESTWARD HO! office: Joyce: "Where's the dummy?"
Helen: "Here I am."
In the Spanish room: "Parlez-vous français?"
"Nein."
In the chemistry room: "I wish I were an ion so I could have a charged personality.

Do you remember . . .

Mrs. Wisner and her three witches?
the fresh air periods in Miss Jones's room?
the aroma of hydrogen sulfide on the third floor around springtime?
Esther and her clay?
Miss Spielman's pantomime?
when Betty Mae Shoop sat in the lab sink?

Did you know about . . .

the girl who wrote on her activities list that she was a squid leader?
the girl who wanted a prescription to WESTERN HO!?

Now You See It—Now You Don't

One girl was very thirsty—
Her throat was dry and parched;
So to a third-floor fountain
She purposefully marched.
We heard the fountain gurgle;
We heard her moan—alack!
Not a drop in the fountain by the third-floor locker stack!

Another girl was thirsty—
Her throat was parched and dry;
She stopped at that same fountain
As she was passing by.
We heard the fountain gurgle;
We heard her scream—alack!
She was drowned in the fountain by the third-floor locker stack!

Advice To Seniors Wanting A Date for the Prom

To the Underclassmen — Our Sole Heirs

Our minds are sound,
Our bodies, too;
So '49 bequeaths to you:

All of the school days that we have had—
None of the good and all of the bad—
All of the hours we sat in class—
All of the tests we couldn't pass—
All of the busses that toss and jerk—
All of the fountains that never work—
All of the homework done at night—
All compositions we had to write—
All of the trouble we went through—
We had to suffer; you suffer, too.

Experience is a teacher firm,
But now we feel we've served our term;
No doubt she's best, we are confessing,
But you may have her—with our blessing!

Good for Us!

Keep this book with loving care,
For its pages once were bare;
Once these pictures were not here,
Once this was no souvenir.

We, the staff of WESTWARD HO!,
Worked till there was this to show.
Now our heads are bent and gray;
We're no longer bright and gay.

The book is writ in blood, we think,
For now our veins have printer's ink.

Class Song

Through the years we'll all remember our dear Western High;
We will carry on tradition as the years go by;
'49's great hope is that your name will never die;
We will praise you forever, Western High!

'49 of Western High School, let your banners fly;
Let maroon and let the gold stand out against the sky;
In our studies, in our pleasures, we will strive to shine;
We will raise the name of Western's '49!

Dear Western

Dear Western, we greet thee with songs of thy praise
And with hopes that unchanged may be,
That forever in safety each ship thou wilt guide
O'er the tempest of destiny's sea.

May thy colors for aye wave proudly on high,
May thy name e'er be linked unto fame;
For we've loved thee, now love thee, and and ever shall love,
And ever shall honor thy name.

To 1949—Compliments of

Mrs. Eunice Shay and Class of B^9

As a sister year;
You've been fine.
You did many things
For class B^9.
When we first came in
You showed us where
To find the gym
Or to comb our hair.

You gave us a party;
It really was fun.
And now these things
Are almost done.
But one more thing
We'd like to say
Lot's of luck
Along life's way.

You're leaving dear Western
To take a place in the world,
And we hope you'll bear always
Your colors unfurled
You've all been just swell
And we always shall strive
To follow your footsteps
Good luck from B^5
